AccuWeather Provides Outstanding Warning of Texas Ice Storm

A devastating ice storm. Thousands of businesses without power in the coldest weather of the year. Impossible driving conditions. Thousands sleeping on floors or cots for as long as three nights at the airport. Hundreds of semis trapped on I-35 in Denton County unable to make deliveries. Total damage estimated at $50 million.

Those were the experiences of businesses and residents of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Metroplex during the ice storm of December 5 and 6, 2013. And, again, AccuWeather Enterprise Solutions provided the earliest, most accurate, and most actionable information on the storm. With our SkyGuard® warnings, businesses were enabled to put people in nearby hotels, adjust travel and delivery schedules, and obtain alternate power sources.

Time after time, AccuWeather Enterprise Solutions provides the timely and actionable information possible to businesses, government, and other enterprises. Call us today. After all, the next storm may already be on the way.
